RETIRED MERCHANT CLAIMED BY DEATH

John B. Morrison, Former Business Man, Passed Away this Morning at Age of 82 Years.

SERVED THREE YEARS IN ARMY

Deceased was in Failing Health for Several Years—Condition Became Critical Tuesday.

John B. Morrison, for many years a prominent merchant in this city, died at 6:15 o'clock this morning at the home of his brother-in-law, Frank Patrick, on North Walnut street. He was in failing health for several years but his condition was not regarded as critical until Tuesday. His death was due to nervousness and complications.

Mr. Morrison was eighty-two years of age, having been born at Flandersburg, Ky., April 5, 1832. His father died when he was a small child and with his mother he moved to Lawrence county a short time afterwards. After a short residence there the family removed to Paoli and lived there for many years.

Just before the opening of the civil war Mr. Morrison came to Seymour and resided here almost continuously until his death. When the call for volunteers was issued he enlisted with the Twenty-fourth Indiana Regiment and served three years. After the close of the conflict he returned to this city and engaged in the dry goods business. For some time Mr. Morrison and the late C. C. Isaacs conducted a partnership business under the name of Isaacs & Morrison at the place where Able's Dry Goods Store is now located. As a merchant and business man he was very successful and acquired considerable property.

Mr. Morrison was a member of the Methodist church for many years and took an active part in church work until his health prevented him from doing so. As a business man he was upright and honest and his integrity was never questioned. As a friend he was true and loyal and as a citizen he gave his influence for the best of the community.

After disposing of his business here Mr. Morrison lived a retired life for a number of years. He three times married, his third wife having been Miss Emma Anderson. Her death occurred about nine years ago and a few months after she died Mr. Morrison moved to Indianapolis to live with his adopted son, Will Morrison, who survives him. He remained at Indianapolis until nearly two years ago when he returned here and made his home with Mr. Patrick.

Although feeble in health Mr. Morrison greatly enjoyed the visits of his friends and was much interested in talking over early events of his life. He was a constant reader and well informed on the general topics of the day. By his death Seymour has lost another citizen who spent an active life, who never lost an opportunity to assist in any movement that meant the betterment of the community.

The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of Mr. Patrick. Rev. D. L. Thomas, pastor of the First M. E. church, will officiate. Burial at Riverview cemetery.

CHARLES TRUMBO AWARDED FIRST PLACE IN CONTEST

Representative of Local School Will Speak at State Oratorical at Bloomington.

The Seymour High School will be represented in the high school oratorical contest at Bloomington May 27th by Charles Trumbo who won at the Fourth District contest at Vevay Friday night. Miss Beatrice Snyder of Vevay and Simeon Leland, of Madison, tied for second place. P. V. Vorin, of Osgood, W. S. O'Donnell of Carrollton, Ky., and O. N. Givan, of Vevay, were the judges.

Similar contests were held in each district in Indiana Friday night and the winners will compete for places in the Bloomington contest. All the speakers spoke upon the same subject, "Does Indiana need a Constitutional Convention" which was selected by Indiana University with the idea of promoting and encouraging a study of civil government in the public schools. The local students are rejoicing today over the victory of their representative at Vevay and believe that he has a splendid opportunity of winning one of the first three places in the state contest.

The winning contestant has shown a marked ability in oratory and his manuscript was highly commended. He stated that he did not desire to discuss any particular reform but strongly advocated the call of the constitutional convention. He asserted that many changes had taken place in financial, industrial, educational and governmental circles since the present constitution was framed and adopted and believed that the needed changes could best be made if the basic law of the state was altered so as to conform with the present day ideas.

WILL NOT AVENGE MURDER OF PARKS

Secretary Bryan Makes Statement That Settlement From Huerta Will be Required Finally.

PEACE MOVEMENT TO PROCEED

United States Will Do Nothing That Can be Construed as Violating Agreement for Armistice.

By United Press. Washington, May 16—The murder of Private Parks by the Huerta forces will not be avenged at once by the Washington authorities. Secretary Bryan made this position clear in a statement today, but indicated clearly that the matter would be held against Huerta in the final settlement which will have to be made with this country. At this time, nothing will be allowed to interfere with the mediation plans which are being carried on by the representatives of the three South American countries, Brazil, Argentina and Chile. Representatives of the United States and of the Huerta government are now hastening to Canada where the arbitration court will be held.

The Spanish Ambassador Riano at Washington today received a dispatch from the Mexican minister of foreign affairs, stating that vigorous investigation of the disappearance of Samuel Parks would be made immediately by the Huerta authorities. The dispatch was in reply to a note sent by Mr. Riano, calling attention to the anxiety of the United States government as to Parks.

It is officially reported here that Consul Silliman, about whose safety there has been great concern during the last few days, has been released and is now en route to this country.

Rebel Victories Continue.

By United Press. Mexico City, May 16—Tuxpam has fallen. The rebel forces have been victorious in another of the cities on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico, a few miles below Tampico. The rebel forces also have captured Morelos killing two hundred Federals. Five hundred Federals also are now surrounded in the sand hills, where they are fighting desperately for their lives.

TITLES OF PICTURES MUST BE FILED TODAY FOR EXHIBIT

Many Seymour Artists Will Loan Pictures in Addition to the Large Exhibit by Indiana Artists.

This is the last day for local artists to file the names of the pictures which they will have on display at the Seymour art exhibit next week. Earl M. Cox, secretary of the Seymour Art League, has the names of quite a number of local artists and many others are expecting to file the titles of pictures tonight. More than twenty-five pictures by local artists will be on exhibit. The catalogue will be placed in the hands of the printer Monday so it is necessary that all names be filed without delay.

Additional pictures from a distance are arriving daily and the task of hanging them in the High School building will be started Wednesday.

The pictures will be placed in the corridors and in the two north rooms. No admission will be charged to the exhibit and hundreds of people are expected to visit the school building to view the work of many of the famous artists of Indiana and the United States. Mrs. Maud Kauffman Eggemeyer, one of the prominent woman artists of the United States, will have several pictures on display. She has been awarded seven medals at different expositions. One picture to be shown here is "Summer," a work that has been highly praised at other exhibits.

Miss Anna M. Newman is an Indiana artist and will have several pictures here. She is a student of J. E. Bundy and also of the Chicago Art Institute. Gustave Baumann, who is connected with the Chicago Art Institute, will have a picture entitled "Autumn Haze" on exhibit. He has a summer home in Brown county and goes there each summer where he outlines his pictures and then completes them in Chicago during the winter months.

THREE SEYMOUR MEN ARE INDICTED BY FEDERAL JURY

Charge Made That Freight Has Been Stolen From Freight Cars in B. & O. S-W. Yards in Seymour.

By United Press. Indianapolis, May 16—Thomas Phillips, Alfred Robbins and James Welsh, of Seymour, were indicted by the federal grand jury upon charges of stealing shipments from freight cars.

The above named men were arrested in this city several weeks ago by detectives of the B. & O. S-W. Railroad Company and were taken to New Albany where they were arraigned before a federal judge. After a preliminary hearing they were released under bond to appear at Indianapolis before the federal court when a summons was issued for them.

The arrests were made after an investigation by the railroad detectives. It is reported that for several months prior to their arrest, the seals on a number of freight cars standing on the yard tracks in this city were broken and that part of the shipments were taken. The offense is all the more serious as the shipments were made under the interstate laws and for that reason the accused men were requested to appear before the federal court at Indianapolis.

The officials of the railroad say that for sometime they had received many claims of short shipments and were unable to find out where the goods went. The seals on the cars were intact at the time the cars arrived at their destination and for that reason it was difficult to find out at what point the goods were taken. Detectives were put on the reported thefts and it is said that they watched each car that came into the city.

All the men, who are under arrest, are well known here and bear good reputations. The work of the detectives caused considerable surprise among their many friends and they had no trouble in giving bond for their appearance in federal court. The case will be set for trial shortly.

Every Day Is Baking Day at The Star

THE MAJOR PORTION OF BREAD USED IN SEYMOUR IS BAKED BY LOCAL PLANT

Ten Thousand Loaves of Bread a Week is the Average Output, Besides a Large Quantity of Rolls, Buns and Pastry.

BREAD "JUST LIKE MOTHER USED TO MAKE"

The Star Bakery Has Grown From a Small Beginning Till Today it is One of Seymour's Most Important Industries.

Baking day, which to most people recalls the thoughts of one day each week set aside for the purpose of making and baking the week's supply of bread and pastry in the old time well regulated home. The kitchen stove was heated and the children were "shooed" away while mother superintended this most important function of baking. Visions of hot biseuits and home made bread still linger in the minds of the older people of today, but to most of us they are a remembrance only, as the modern bakery has done away with all the worry and turmoil of baking day and turns out a product that gives "home made" bread a very close tussle in the race for popularity.

David O. Dunn began the baking of bread for the people of Seymour in 1905 at his present location on South East Street under the firm name of the Star Bakery with an output of about 175 loaves a day which was retailed to the public over a route covered by one delivery wagon. Everything was done by hand in those days, the kneading, mixing and in fact everything. One baker was used to look after the output and he was never really busy. Just to show that "great oaks from little acorns grow," today the Star Bakery is making 10,000 loaves of bread a week or about 1,700 loaves a day besides quite a quantity of pies, cakes, buns, rolls and cookies. Four bakers are employed with assistants and two wagons are used delivering the bread which is sold only to the wholesale trade.

To supply this great demand for bread thirty-five barrels of Gold Medal flour are used every day where in the beginning one-half barrel of flour filed the demand. Five pounds of Fleischman's yeast are used, thirty-five pounds of the best sugar, twenty pounds of pure country lard. Along with this a barrel of malt extract is used every four weeks. The old days of mixing and kneading bread by hand have gone forever, for in the modern bakery all this is accomplished by machinery, so that the dough is hardly touched by human hands from the time the flour is poured into the great mixing bowl until it comes from the oven piping hot. Even then it is most carefully guarded against dust or dirt making the bread of today as wholesome and sanitary as human power can make it.

The process of making bread in an up-to-date plant with the large output of the Star Bakery is interesting. There is absolutely no guess work to it. Every ingredient is properly measured or weighed. The oven is heated to a certain degree of heat and automatically kept at that temperature which insures uniformity in the size of the loaves and their quality. It would be interesting to watch the expression on our grandmothers' faces if they were to stand by and watch the great 200 pound sacks of flour being dumped into the great mixing bowl into which has been placed great cakes of yeast and buckets of filtered water. After the proper amount of all the ingredients are placed in the bowl, the electricity is turned on and the large paddles or "hands" finish the mixing process with a great deal more speed and much more thoroughly than in the old hand mixing days. This mixer has the power and capacity for mixing two barrels of flour every forty minutes. From the mixing bowl the dough is next introduced into the "raising trough" where it is allowed to stand for about two hours or until in the baker's opinion it has acquired the proper lightness. In the mixing trough the dough seems to be as a thing alive as it gently raises and assumes from three to four times its original proportion. When the time comes that the baker thinks the dough has reached the proper lightness, it is placed on the moulding board, a great smooth white table as clean as a pin. In this operation the dough is touched by the bakers for the first time. Two men stand side by side and cut off what they consider will make a proper sized loaf. This is thrown on the scale and must weigh exactly sixteen ounces. This is the weight the Star Bakery has been putting into their loaves of bread for the last two years.

After the bread leaves the scales it is placed into a machine known as a moulding machine which performs the same duties as the rolling pin performs for the housewife. This machine has a capacity of ninety loaves a minute and can be regulated so that it will form any shaped loaf of bread desired, either long, short or medium. As the nicely moulded loaves come flying out in almost a continuous string, they are placed in pans and set in the proof box to which is attached steam pipes and are then placed in the great oven to come out. When the times is up the bread is taken out by the use of long paddles, quickly placed into the delivery wagon, taken to the grocery store and other places where bread is handled and while it is yet hot you may sit down to the table in your own home and enjoy it, knowing that you are eating bread made of the very best materials, made in a shop as clean and sanitary as your own kitchen. You know also that it is cheaper than home made bread and that your wife or mother has not had to work over a hot oven in preparing it.

Mr. Dunn, proprietor of the Star Bakery, is yet a young man, and while he only attends to the business end he is a thorough baker and understands bread making from the beginning to the end. In fact if necessary he could do the work of head baker today. In speaking of the business Mr. Dunn said, "Our chief aim is to give our patrons the largest, best baked and the most uniform sized loaf of bread that it is possible to make and in doing this we have surrounded the work with the most sanitary conditions known to the baking business and have installed every new machine and device that will aid us in accomplishing it. Everything that we use in bread making from the salt to the flour is the very best that can be procured on the market and products that we have learned by long experience produce the most satisfactory results. I have visited many bake shops over the state and found nowhere conditions that were more favorable than those found in Seymour. I even believe I make no mistake when I say the Star Shop is a good deal above the average."

Dough On the Moulding Board.

One can well believe this to be true for everything is spotlessly clean around the shop. All the machines, walls and oven are painted plain white and these with the great sacks of white flour, presided over by the white jacketed bakers present a pretbusiness, Mr. Dunn continued: "This business was started in a small way. Everything was done by hand and we catered to the retail trade alone, delivering bread to the house door. But by close attention to business, endeavoring to give our patrons the best for the money, we have succeeded in the last ten years in building our business to where it is today. It has taken a great deal of hard work to do this but we feel that we have bread every twenty-four hours. The oven is known as a Peterson Patent and we heat it with either gas or coke, of course using coke only in case of a break in the gas supply. We handle our baking in small quantities at a time, believing that in baking oftener rather than in one or two large bakings we get better results for the simple reason that in a large batch of dough the latter part of which will be aged differently from that which is pastry business and in fact we don't do so much of it. We would rather confine our efforts to the bread line. "We work a night and day shift, with two bakers on each watch. These men are all experienced bakers and have been in our employment for a good while and though modern machinery has taken away the hardest part of a baker's work, there is still much to be done and good judgment to be used.

"The bakery of today is closely guarded by the pure food laws and been amply repaid. We sell to the retail dealers alone now. Of course that does away with the worry and labor of delivering from house to house. If our plans for the future do not go astray, we hope to increase our output in the near future as we used first, even though the time on the moulding board is short. Then too we are able to deliver fresher bread to the trade, as we bake four regular batches each day and on Saturdays we have two extra ones. The bread is delivered promptly as soon as taken from the oven, thus giving rigidly controlled by state sanitary factory laws. You will be surprised how thoroughly the laws cover the sanitary conditions, if you will take the time and trouble to read them.

For instance, it is provided that every building, room, basement or cellar occupied or used as a bakery must be properly lighted, drained, plumbed and ventilated and conducted with strict regard to the influence of such condition upon the health of the employees. That the floors, side-walks, ceilings, furniture, receptacles, implements and machinery must be kept in the cleanest condition. That the doors and windows and other openings shall be fitted with self-closing screens and that the screens must not be coarser than 14 wire mesh gauze.

Spitting and smoking in the bake shop is strictly prohibited. No person or persons are permitted to sleep in the shop and every employee must be absolutely free from any disease no matter how trivial it may seem.

These are just a few of the many rules and regulations that a bake shop must work under. The local Board of Health has full power to act if a violation of any of the State laws are discovered beside which the Factory inspector and Pure Food inspector is always on the job. In these and many other ways the public's health is protected. Now don't think that these laws can be evaded even though a baker may be inclined that way, for you don't know what moment a state inspector may step into your place of business. If it is not clean and if the whole works have not a general air of cleanliness from the men employed in the shop clear down to the delivery wagons, you are subject to a good strong call on the green carpet or possibly a good stiff fine. The inspector examines every nook and cranny of the shop, the machines and the ovens. So you see it pays one to keep things in a good clean condition.

"I don't know whether this will be of interest to the people of Seymour, but those who eat Star Bread and those who do not, are always welcome to visit our bakery at any hour of the day or night and see just how we handle the bread-baking proposition."

As Mr. Dunn finished explaining the business, the bread we had seen placed in the oven a short time before was ready to be taken out. It certainly looked to be up to specifications; it smelled that way, and when sampled it certainly tasted as good as the "bread Mother used to make."

In conclusion, Mr. Dunn said, "Don't think for a moment that this growth has been accomplished without a great deal of hard work on the management's part, it has caused us a great many long, hard days and nights of work and often a great deal of worry as to where the money for the next pay roll was coming from, but by sticking tight to the game and giving the people the best to be had we have won out. I believe we are giving the kind of service the people of Seymour appreciate and we will continue to do so."

which is kept heated to about 475 degrees. It takes just about forty minutes for the oven to do the baking, at least that is the average time. Here again the head baker's judgment comes into play as he is the one who really decides when the bread is ready ty picture to the eye.

There seemed to be enough flour stacked in the shop to run a small army for some time, but Mr. Dunn said that there should have been another earload in that day.

In speaking of the growth of the Seymour, will enable us to keep both ovens in constant operation. The oven we are now using is fourteen feet square and has a capacity of 440 loaves of bread at a baking. With this oven working under average speed we can bake 4,000 loaves of the dealers four to six chances each day to have fresh warm bread put into their places of business. At the same time the fresh loaves are delivered the drivers are instructed to take up and bring back to the shop any loaves that are in the retailer's case that do not seem to be up to the standard in freshness. This is done with no expense to the grocer so you see there is no reason why our bread should not reach the homes in very fresh condition. As to the flour, we use Gold Medal in everything we bake and have for a good many years. We buy this in great quantities, receiving about two earloads a month, most of which we use ourselves. The rest we wholesale to retail stores. We are agents for the brand of yeast we use in our baking which is Fleischmann's and also supply the local retail trade with it. In making our bread we use about a barrel of malt extract a month. This takes the place of potatoes and is a very expensive ingredient. It can be and is often dispensed with by bakers who do not care to make the very highest quality of bread. Our sugar of which we use 200 pounds a week, and the salt of which 100 pounds a week are used, is of the cleanest and very best quality. We always try to use lard made in Jackson county whenever we are able to procure it, which is very nearly all the time.

"This I have told you about is the baking of bread alone. Of course we use the same care in buying our supplies for rolls, buns and pastries, but we really don't care for much of the

At its Price, the World's Greatest Automobile Value!

Check the Measurements

Leg room, depth and width of seats—with those of any car selling from $1000 up to $1400—you'll find this is a "big" car in inches as well as "immense" in efficiency. Note up-to-date streamline body design, left hand steer, center control and other features of the highest priced cars.

The Car that is Rapidly Setting the Selling Pace Everywhere

IT IS predicted by shrewd judges that the Maxwell "25" $750 car made by the Maxwell Motor Company, Detroit, Mich., will within a year be the fastest selling automobile in the world.

And this isn't such an extraordinary prediction when you consider the many very remarkably good points of the Maxwell "25," and the present phenomenal demand.

A prominent writer who has intelligently studied the subject said recently that the time is coming when most families in the United States will own an automobile.

In many places Maxwell "25s" are used not only for pleasure purposes, but for business reasons as well, thus rendering a highly efficient double service.

The Maxwell "25" Car is unique. It occupies a distinctive position.

It is in a class by itself. It hasn't a real competitor because it gives what other cars do not give. It possesses more advantages that benefit you, price considered, of course.

The Maxwell "25" Car has all the fine points of higher priced cars and none of their weaknesses.

It is truly a marvel of engineering genius. It is thoroughly trustworthy in every detail of construction and equipment. It is made from the best materials that brains can devise.

The Maxwell "25" is a light, practically indestructible car of extraordinary capacity, power and performance. It symbolizes speed, power and economy.

The cost of oil, gasoline and tire maintenance is so small as to be positively amazing. This has been proved repeatedly.

The Maxwell "25" is more than just merely a car. It is a superbly constructed, roomy 5-passenger automobile. It is a real full grown car, a beautiful, smooth, swift and eminently satisfactory streamline automobile.

These Detailed Specifications Prove Positively How Much Big Value You Can Get in the Maxwell "25" at $750

The Maxwell "25" has absolutely every essential quality and absolutely every necessary feature found in the very highest priced cars.

In actual economy of operation, in real ability to keep out of the repair shop, it not only equals but surpasses most cars which cost five times its price.

The Maxwell "25" weighs 1685 pounds. A wonderful "tire economy car." Has 30" x 3 1/2" tires, front and rear, permitting rear tires to be shifted to front wheels to give extra long service.

The motor is cast in block; 3 3/4" bore; 4 1/2" stroke; adjustable valves completely inclosed. Extra large crank shaft; bearings of bronze with babbit lining.

Motor water cooled, will not overheat.

More Power for Its Weight Than All Higher Priced Cars

The Maxwell "25" has a real "25" horsepower motor—which develops more power in proportion to the weight of the car than the engines of most $5000 automobiles.

The Maxwell "25" can pass most any car on hills "in high." It is a phenomenal hill climber.

Costly High Tension Magneto—Like Highest Priced Cars

The Maxwell "25" has a Siemens high-tension magneto, which delivers the spark direct to the spark plugs in correct time. It means no coils—no make-shift master vibrators—no mechanical adjustments that require frequent delicate adjustments. The magneto works right, and stays right.

Transmission—4-Speed Selective Sliding Gear, Center Control

The Maxwell "25" has a 4-speed selective type transmission; 3 forward and 1 reverse. The main shaft has Hyatt Roller Bearings at front end—bronze bushing babbit lined at rear. Adjustable clutch lined with motobestos. It takes hold firmly without slipping, and without undue noise.

Control—Brakes of Extra Strength

The Maxwell "25" has left-side, 16" steering wheel. There is plenty of room for a big man to drive without being cramped. Spark throttle control rods are inclosed in steering column.

The Maxwell "25" is unfailingly responsive. It at once attracts favorable attention and flattering comment.

When you buy a Maxwell "25" you do not have to be ashamed of it; you do not have to apologize for it; it isn't a car that's perpetually joked about.

When you buy a Maxwell "25" you get a car that looks like one that costs double the money, and acts like a car that sells at twice its price.

Its operation is easy and economical. You are not compelled to dig constantly into your purse. It isn't a car that's a source of worry.

It minimizes cost—saves you money.

The Maxwell "25" is a real joy. It is a car that stands up and delivers at all times and under all conditions, no matter how trying. It is always right there at the right time. It gets you to your destination and back in the shortest possible time and at least cost.

It has plenty of smart style; it is a fast and sure hill climber; in fact, its hill climbing performances are marvelous, as records prove.

The Maxwell "25" $750 is the car that you should own.

Our object in running this, the world's largest automobile advertisement, is to vividly impress you, to try and convey to you at a glance what a truly remarkable car the Maxwell "25" is!

We could have compressed this advertisement into half the space, but that wouldn't have satisfied us, nor would it have impressed you in a big way.

Big things should make big impressions.

And as the Maxwell "25" is a big thing in automobile advancement—the very biggest in its class—we want your attention now—at once!

But after all, perhaps the best and most convincing way to impress you is to show you the Maxwell "25" itself!

A shipment has just arrived, and we are very eager, indeed, to show you these beautiful cars, to demonstrate to you their many points of superiority.

Come and let us take you for a ride in a car that runs swiftly, beautifully and as ideally as an exquisitely made watch!

There is a foot throttle or accelerator pedal with foot rest. Transmission Control Lever is in center of car and is operated by the right hand.

The service brake is contracting and the emergency brake expanding. They act on 12 1/2" brake drums bolted to rear wheels.

Unfailing, Economical, Springless Atomizer Type Carburetor

The Maxwell "25" has a Zephyr Carburetor—Atomizer Type. This gives unusual high mileage per gallon of gasoline without constant carburetor trouble. Starts and runs right in any weather, and controlled from the dash.

Lubrication—Improved Splash System with Oil Saving Pump

The Maxwell "25" has splash lubrication with a sturdy, slow-moving plunger pump. This saves oil.

Capacity—A Real 5-Passenger Car of Comfort

The Maxwell "25" is a real 5-passenger car. It carries 5 grown people comfortably. There is plenty of leg room.

Phenomenal Easy Riding Qualities

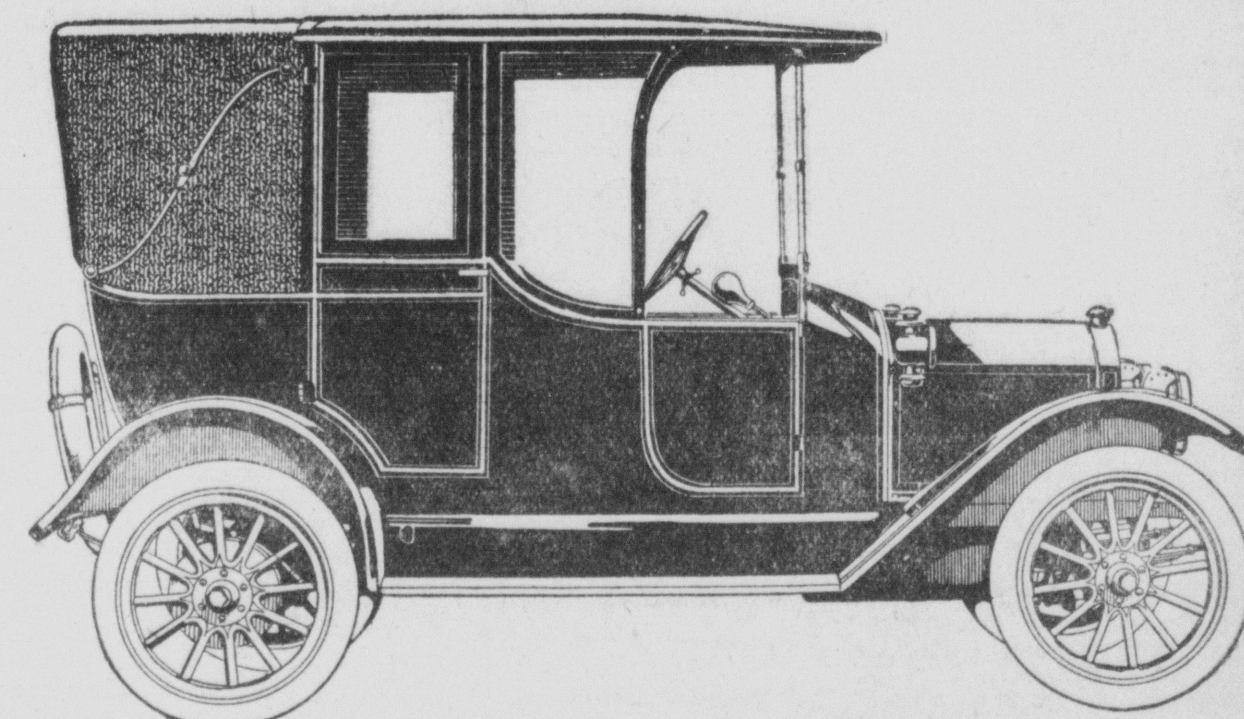

The Maxwell "25" has 4 semi-elliptic type springs. The front springs are 32" long. The rear springs are 40" long, fixed at front, shackled at rear, and mounted on a rocking seat. Absolutely no expensive shock absorbers or auxiliary springs are needed.

Fullest Equipment—Complete and of Unusual Quality

The Maxwell "25" has a perfectly fitted top with envelope. The top has the famous "Jiffy Curtains," which fold back in the top and can be let down in an instant without getting out of the car.

Full equipment of handsome lamps, Prest-O-Lite tank, full set of tools, jack, pump, Stewart speedometer, etc. At the rear of the car there is a strong, good looking tire-carrier.

You have no extras to buy. Everything comes with the car.

Maxwell "25-4" Town Car, $950

These sturdy Town Cars have a seating capacity for 6 persons—2 in the driver's seat and 4 in the rear. Landauette type. This is the ideal car for hundreds of kinds of steady daily service.

These Maxwell Town Cars are light, flexible and strongly constructed—in fact, indestructible. They keep maintenance cost down to the minimum mark.

If you want a car for hire purposes, for taxi uses—a car that will stand up and deliver—a car that will make money for you day in and day out—this is the car that you should buy without hesitation.

In thousands of sections throughout the United States, particularly in the rural regions, there are many splendid opportunities to profitably operate a public hack or taxi. This is the car that renders real ideal service because of its durability and low upkeep cost.

Ask us about this Maxwell "25" Town Car. Price $950, plus the freight.

HOW WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio.—"My left side pained me so for several years that I expected to have to undergo an operation, but the first bottle I took of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of the pains in my side and I continued its use until I became regular and free from pains. I had asked several doctors if there was anything I could take to help me and they said there was nothing that they knew of. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. GRIFFITH, 7305 Madison Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.

Hanover, Pa.—"I suffered from female trouble and the pains were so bad at times that I could not sit down. The doctor advised a severe operation but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it. What joy and happiness it is to be well once more. I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Compound."—Mrs. ADA WILT, 196 Stock St., Hanover, Pa.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Temperance

(Conducted by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

DRINK AND CRUELTY.

Medical science tells us that an imperfect nervous system is often the cause of the tendency to cruelty sometimes seen in young children—that if a child shows a disposition to torture animals or abuse other children it does not follow that the boy or girl is a degenerate; it may be due to the presence of toxin in the blood. The well-known tendency to cruelty on the part of those addicted to the excessive use of intoxicants, bears out this statement. Men, who in sober moments are tender husbands and fathers, become transformed by strong drink into savages and fiends. Even the more "temperate" use of liquor tends to dull the sensibilities and belated the finer instincts. The toxin in the blood of a moderate drinker, while not always causing a noticeable degeneracy in the man himself, is transmitted to his offspring, and in the third or fourth generation, if not before, is manifested in the "cruel tendencies" of children that excite our wonder.

RUINING A VESTED INTEREST.

Collier's Weekly, which with commendable frequency gives the liquor traffic an editorial stab, recently answered as follows the saloonist's claim that to destroy the saloon is to destroy a vested interest: "Every generation raises its crop of fine old crusted Tories—some of them in the humbler walks of life. And at all times they oppose light—even as they once tried to resist lighting what Longfellow called the 'street lamps of the ocean.' The instance we have in mind is noted in Emerson's Journal. Sixty years ago the philosopher visited Nauset, on Cape Cod. 'Collins, the keeper, told us he found resistance on Cape Cod to the project of building a lighthouse on this coast, as it would injure the wrecking business.' Did you ever stop to think that our lighthouses have utterly ruined what used to be a vested interest?"

DISAPPROVAL OF LIQUOR.

The American Sheet and Tin Plate company of Vandergrift, Pa., which is a subsidiary concern of the United States Steel corporation, has placed the stamp of disapproval on liquor and drinking by notifying all employees that they must withdraw from fraternal organizations and clubs which maintain sideboards, or cease to work in the company's plants. They are also prohibited from endorsing liquor license applications.

This order, it is said, not only affects the 6,000 employees at the Leechburg, Hyde Park, New Kensington and Vandergrift plants, but all the plants of the company throughout the country.

AGAINST ALCOHOL.

Dr. C. W. Saleeby, the distinguished English physician and writer on eugenics, concludes his little book on "The Methods of Race Generation" with this remarkable sentence:

"In the light of truth and the verdict of science it cannot be questioned that he who at this date is for alcohol is against civilization, and whatever ideals of justice and freedom and goodness we would transmit to the future. To all and sundry I say: Would you befriend men, women and children? Go protect parenthood from alcohol; go fear not that kind of laughter which is as the crackling of thorns under a pot."

STICKS TO TEMPERANCE.

A German spoke at a temperance meeting as follows: "I shall tell you how it was. I put my hand on my head; there was one big pain. Then I put my hand on my body and there was another. Then I put my hand in my pocket and there was nothing. Now there is no more pain in the head. De pains in my body are all gone away. I put my hand in my pocket, and there ish twenty tollars. So I stay mit de temperance."

FAVORS HIS OWN RULE.

Mr. George Perkins of the New York Life Insurance company gave a dinner to the directors of the great company. When a menu card was handed him for his sanction he crossed out all wines. To the protest of the proprietor that such a thing would be preposterous and could not be done, Mr. Perkins replied: "We discriminate against the use of these in our policy holders, it is but fair we should abide by our own rule."

Chamberlain's Liniment.

This preparation is intended especially for rheumatism, lame back, sprains and like ailment. It is a favorite with people who are well acquainted with its splendid qualities. Mrs. Charles Tanner, Wabash, Ind., says of it, "I have found Chamberlain's Liniment the best thing for lame back and sprains I have ever used. It works like a charm and relieves pain and soreness. The Story of Waitstill Baxter

By KATE DOUGLAS WIGGIN

Copyright, 1913, by Kate Douglas Wiggin

CHAPTER VI.

"What dreams may come."

UPPER was over and the work done at last. The dishes washed, the beans put in soak, the hens shut up for the night, the milk strained and carried down cellar. Patty went up to her little room with the one window and the slanting walls, and Waitstill followed and said good night. Her father put out the lights, locked the doors and came up the creaking stairs. There was never any talk between the sisters before going to bed, save on nights when their father was late at the store, usually on Saturdays only, for the good talkers of the village, as well as the gossip and loafers, preferred any other place to swap stories than the bleak atmosphere provided by old Foxy at his place of business.

Patty could think in the dark. Her healthy young body lying not uncomfortably on the bed of corn husks, and the patchwork comforter drawn up under her chin, she could think, but for the first time she could not tell her thoughts to Waitstill. She had a secret, a dazzling secret, just like Ellen Wilson and some of the other girls who were several years older. Her afternoon's experience loomed as large in her innocent mind as if it had been an elopement.

"I hope I'm not engaged to be married to him, even if he did!" The sentence was too tremendous to be finished even in thought. "I don't think I can be. Men must surely say something and not take it for granted you are in love with them and want to marry them. It is what they say when they ask that I should like, much better than being married, when I'm only just past seventeen. I wish Mark was a little different. I don't like his careless ways! He admires me, I can tell that by the way he looks, but he admires himself just as much and expects me to do the same. Still, I suppose none of them are perfect, and girls have to forgive lots of little things when they are engaged. Mother must have forgiven a good many things when she took father. Anyway, Mark is going away for a month on business, so I shan't have to make up my mind just yet!" Here sleep descended upon the slightly puzzled, but on the whole delightfully complacent little creature, bringing her most alluring and untrustworthy dreams.

The dear Innocent had indeed no need of haste. Young Mr. Marquis de Lafayette Wilson—Mark for short—was not in the least a gay deceiver or ruthless breaker of hearts, and so far as known no scalps of village beauties were hung to his belt. He was a likable, light weight young chap, as indolent and pleasure loving as the strict customs of the community would permit, and a kiss, in his mind, most certainly never would lead to the altar, else he had already been many times a bridegroom. Miss Patience Baxter's maiden meditations and uncertainties and perplexities, therefore, were decidedly premature. She was a natural born, unconsciously artistic, highly expert and finished coquette. She was all this at seventeen, and Mark at twenty-four was by no means a match for her in this field of effort yet. But sometimes in getting her victim into the net the coquette loses her balance and falls in herself. There wasn't a bit of harm in Marquis de Lafayette, but he was extremely agile in keeping out of nets.

Waitstill was restless, too, that night, although she could not have told the reason. She opened her window at the back of the house and leaned out. The evening was mild, with a soft wind blowing. She could hear the full brook dashing through the edge of the wood lot and even the "kerchug" of an occasional bullfrog. There were great misty stars in the sky, but no moon.

There was no light in Aunt Abby Cole's kitchen, but a faint glimmer shone through the windows of Uncle Bart's joiner's shop, showing that the old man was either having an hour of peaceful contemplation with no companion but his pipe or that there might be a little group of privileged visitors, headed by Jed Morrill, busily discussing the affairs of the nation.

Waitstill felt troubled and anxious tonight, bruised by the little daily torments that lessened her courage but never wholly destroyed it. Any one who believed implicitly in heredity might have been puzzled, perhaps, to account for her. He might fantastically picture her as making herself out of her ancestors, using a free hand, picking and choosing what she liked best, with due care for the effect of combinations; selecting here and there and modifying, if advisable, a trait of Grandpa or Grandma Foxwell, of Great Uncle or Great Aunt Baxter; borrowing qualities lavishly from her own gentle born and gently bred mother and carefully avoiding her respected father's stock, except perhaps to take a dash of his pluck and an ounce of his persistence. Jed Morrill remarked of Deacon Baxter once, "When Old Foxy wants anything he'll wait till hell freezes over afore he'll give up."

Waitstill had her father's firm chin, but there the likeness ended. The proud curve of her nostrils, the clear, well opened eye with its deep fringe of lashes, the earnest mouth, all these came from the mother who was little more than a dim memory.

Waitstill disdained any vague, dreary, colorless theory of life and its meaning. She had joined the church at fifteen, more or less because other girls did and the parson had persuaded her, but out of her hard life she had somehow framed a courageous philosophy that kept her erect and uncrushed, no matter how great her difficulties. She had no idea of bringing a poor, weak, dragged soul to her Maker at the last day, saying, "Here is all I have managed to save out of what you gave me!"

Patty slept sweetly on the other side of the partition, the contemplation of her twopenny triumphs bringing a smile to her childish lips, but even so a good heart was there (still perhaps in the process of making), a quick wit, ready sympathy, natural charm; plenty, indeed, for the stronger sister to cherish, protect and hold precious, as she did with all her mind and soul.

There had always been a passionate loyalty in Waitstill's affection, wherever it had been bestowed. Uncle Bart delighted in telling an instance of it that occurred when she was a child of five. Maine had just separated amicably from her mother, Massachusetts, and become an independent state. It was in the middle of March, but there was no snow on the ground and the village boys had built a bonfire on a plot of land near Uncle Bart's joiner's shop. There was a large gathering in celebration of the historic event and Waitstill crept down the hill with her homemade rag doll in her arms. She stood on the outskirts of the crowd, a silent, absorbed little figure clad in a shabby woolen coat, with a blue knit hood framing her rosy face. Deborah, her beloved, her only doll, was tightly clasped in her arms, for Debby, like her parent, had few pleasures and must not be denied so great a one as this. Suddenly one of the thoughtless young scamps in the group, wishing to create a new sensation and add to the general excitement, caught the doll from the child's arms and running forward with a wild warwhoop, flung it into the flames. Waitstill did not lose an instant. She gave a scream of anguish and without giving any warning of her intentions, probably without realizing them herself, she dashed through the little crowd into the bonfire and snatched her cherished offspring from the burning pile. The whole thing was over in the twinkling of an eye, for Uncle Bart was as quick as the child and dragged her out of the imminent danger with no worse harm done than a good scorching.

He led the little creature up the hill to explain matters and protect her from a scolding. She still held the doll against her heaving breast, saying, between the sobs: "I couldn't let my Debby burn up! I couldn't. Uncle Bart, she's got nobody but me! Is my dress scorched so much I can't wear it? You'll tell father how it was, Uncle Bart, won't you?"

Debby bore the marks of her adventure longer than her owner, for she had been longer in the fire, but stained and defaced as she was, she was never replaced and remained the only doll of Waitstill's childhood. At this very moment she lay softly and safely in a bureau drawer ready to be lifted out, some time, Waitstill fancied, and shown tenderly to Patty's children. Of her own possible children she never thought. There was but one man in the world who could ever be the father of them, and she was separated from him by every obstacle that could divide two human beings.

SISTER: Read My Free Offer!

I am a woman.
I know a woman's trials.
I know her need of sympathy and help.
If you, my sister, are unhappy because of ill-health, if you feel unfit for household duties, social pleasures, or daily employment, write and tell me just how you suffer, and ask for my free ten days' trial of a home treatment suited to your needs. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any man. I want to tell you how to cure yourself at home at a cost of about 12 cents a week.
If you suffer from women's peculiar ailments causing pain in the head, back, or bowels, feeling of weight and dragging-down sensation, falling or displacement of pelvic organs, causing kidney and bladder weakness or constipation and piles, painful or irregular periods, catarrhal conditions and discharges, extreme nervousness, depressed spirits, melancholy, desire to cry, fear of something evil about to happen, creeping feeling along the spine, palpitation, hot flashes, weariness, sallow complexion with dark circles under the eyes, pain in the left breast, or a general feeling that life is not worth living,

I INVITE YOU TO SEND TODAY FOR MY FREE TEN DAYS' TREATMENT

and learn how these ailments can be easily and surely conquered at home without the dangers and expense of an operation. When you are cured, and able to enjoy life again, you can pass the good word along to some other sufferer. My home treatment is for young or old. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain how to overcome green sickness (chlorosis), irregularities, headaches, and lassitude in young women and restore them to plumpness and health. Tell me if you are worried about your daughter. Remember, it costs you nothing to give me your treatment a ten days' trial, and does not interfere with daily work. If health is worth asking for, then accept my generous offer and write for the free treatment, including my illustrated booklet, "Woman's Own Medical Adviser." I will send all in plain wrappers post-paid. To save time, you can cut out this offer, mark your feelings, and return to me. Send today, as you may not see this offer again. Address,

COTTON FROCKS DISPLAY THE SAME STYLE FEATURES AS THOSE OF SILK OR LINGERIE.

We have quite gotten away from the old idea of a cotton frock; it no longer stands for morning wear alone but shows quite as many frills and flounces as its aristocratic silk sister and fills the bill for afternoons or the summer hotel hop quite as efficiently. Small patterned voiles and crepes, narrow striped cottons, lingerie and net are made up alone for these frocks or are combined with taffetas, crêpe de Chine and other silks, plain and fancy.

A flower-strewn crêpe showing a small pink bud on a cream background is used for the young girl's dress (8352); the scalloped outline on the bodice and tunic are edged with narrow Valenciennes lace and the circle is of satin in a soft shade of French blue. 6¾ yards of 36-inch crêpe are needed to make this dress for a girl of eighteen, with 9 yards of lace edging.

The second costume, fashioned of white eponge, shows a cape effect and a modish collar, flaring away from the throat; the skirt is a one-piece model with a double circular tunic. The blouse (8343) may be copied in size 36, with 1¾ yards of 36-inch material; the skirt (8344) requires 3¾ yards of the same width for size 24. A happy combination of taffetas and net is shown in 8365-8366; the color is pale yellow and a most pleasing contrast is afforded by the bowed girdle of black. The bodice shows a novel raglan sleeve and a small standing collar, flaring in the new way. The blouse (8365) requires for size 36, 2 yards of 36-inch material; 3¾ yards of the same width are needed for the skirt (8366).

Number 8352 sizes 16, 17 and 18.

Number 8343 sizes 34 to 42.

Number 8344 sizes 22 to 30.

Number 8365 sizes 34 to 44.

Each pattern 15 cents.

FOR TOWNSHIP TRUSTEE.
We are hereby authorized to announce the candidacy of Dr. W. M. Casey for trustee of Jackson township subject to the will of the Republican party.

The Seymour high school is to be congratulated for the interest and enthusiasm shown in oratory and debating. Both are very valuable not only to those who participate but to the school in general as the pupils are given an opportunity to hear discussions upon the leading questions of the day. In this manner facts are presented in an impressive manner and will encourage study and thought which would not result from the regular classroom work. Oratorical and debating contests aid in a well rounded high school course. The interest is also increased by the success of the local representatives in the various contests.

MR. LEWIS A. RIFFLE tells his experience with coughs and colds that lead to nervousness and debility.

Colds are often aggravated during the summer because inactive bowels and a stomach out of order are prime causes in keeping a cold from getting well.

Pe-ru-na has very beneficial laxative qualities that neutralize such conditions. Mr. Lewis Riffle, of Portland, Ore., writes: "I have found Pe-ru-na a most remarkable medicine for building up the system and for curing coughs and colds."

"I took it for four weeks a few months ago when I was all run down, nervous and debilitated, and it quickly restored my health."

"I always keep it on hand, as a few doses will cure a cold if taken in time." "People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Pe-ru-na Tablets."

disturb the equilibrium of the townspeople?

The new state penal farm in Putnam county will be opened about August 1, and after that time all county jail prisoners awaiting trial or who are serving long sentences will be sent there. The opening of the penal farm will mark the beginning of the end of the infamous jail system in Indiana. Youths who are sentenced for minor offenses will be worked separately from hardened criminals who do not feel the disgrace of a jail sentence. It is expected that the penal farm will be practically self-sustaining while county jails are operated at an enormous expense which must be met by taxation.

In view of the fact that Huerta is anxious for the United States to engage in warfare with Mexico he will probably not be greatly concerned when he receives the message that there is a strong feeling in the United States against his violations of the terms of the armistice.

ANNA BELLE Does China Painting

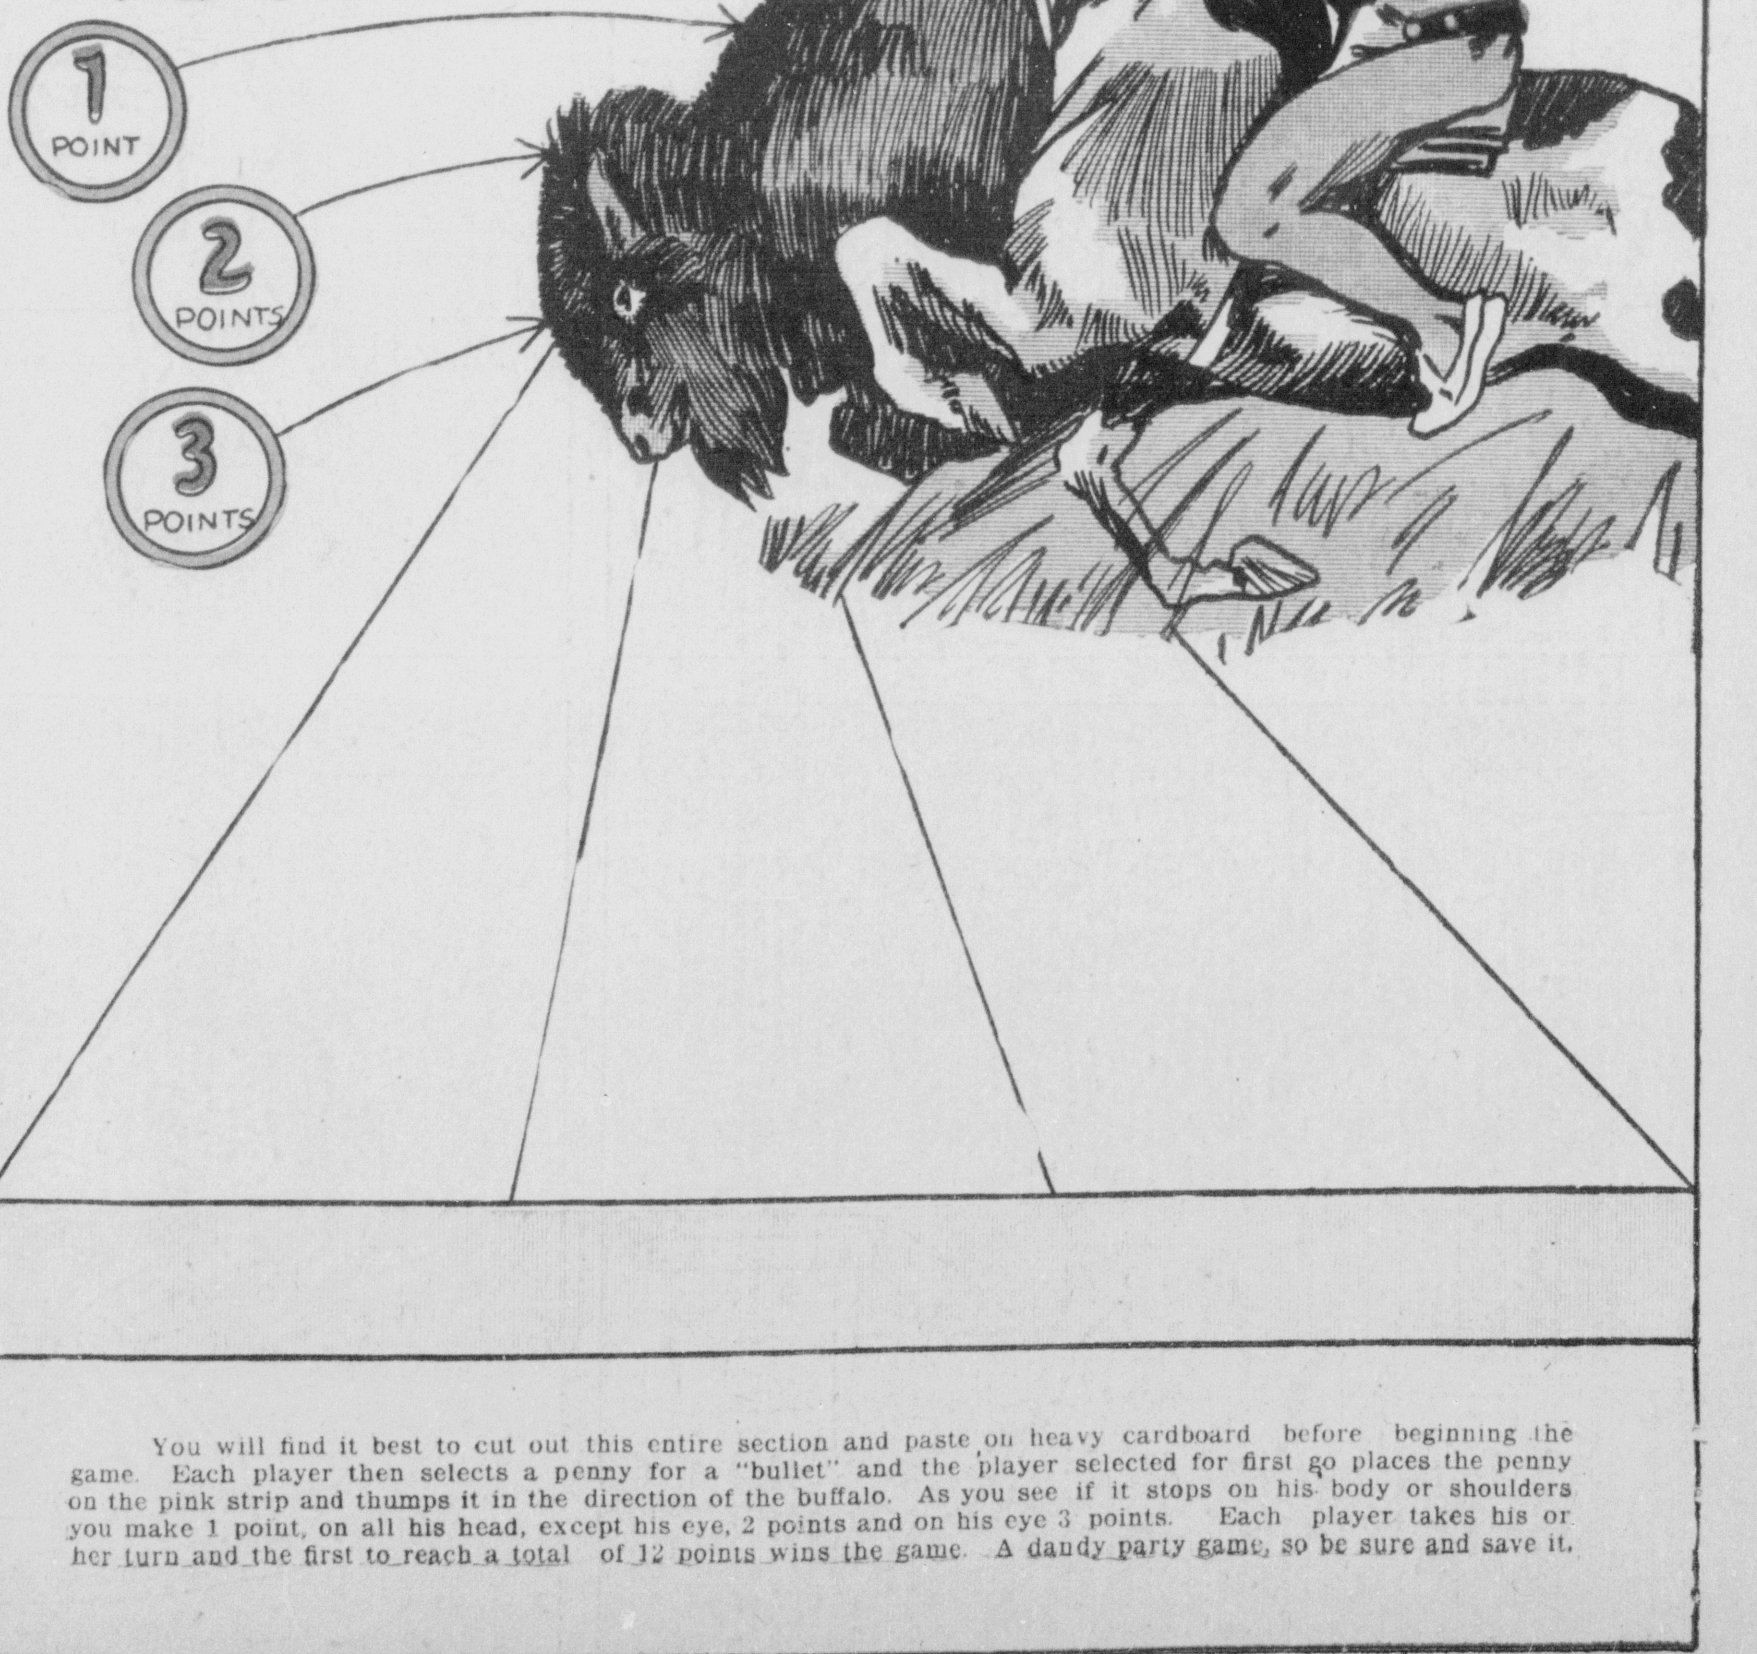

Dear Friends—Well, I've taken up what Daddy calls a fad, but I'm sure he will think it is very nice when I get to doing real good work. Mother thinks I have quite a talent for drawing and painting and she says I ought to learn all I can while I'm young and can spare the time. She says that after we get older our time is taken up by so many things each day that we don't have the time to spare for such things as china painting and other useful arts. My teacher is just fine and I'm showing her this time for I'm sure you also will like her.

School is out now and I made an average of 98½ for the entire term. No medal was offered this year, but had there been Margie and I would have tied for it, as we both made the same percentage. However, maybe we would have tried harder than we did had a medal been offered. Several of my friends have written me of the good marks they have made in school this year and I know they're very happy in knowing they have done so well.

I also have so many requests for Certificates of Membership in The ANNA BELLE SEWING SOCIETY, and that makes me very happy, indeed. Everyone reports Sewing Society work doing just fine, and one little girl writes that she has an uncle, who does for them as my dear Uncle Ezra does for my Society. If you haven't sent for your Certificate of Membership, why not do so now? Write me care of this paper, enclosing a two-cent stamp for postage and I'll be glad to send you one. Or, if you're an officer in your Society will send as many as you wish for yourself and members. If you already have your Certificate just write me a good long letter anyway and tell me of the good work you're doing and make any suggestions you wish. I will be so glad to have you do this. Lovingly,

Anna Belle

THE EXCITING GAME OF "BUFFALO HUNT"

You will find it best to cut out this entire section and paste on heavy cardboard before beginning the game. Each player then selects a penny for a "bullet" and the player selected for first go places the penny on the pink strip and thumps it in the direction of the buffalo. As you see if it stops on his body or shoulders you make 1 point, on all his head, except his eye, 2 points and on his eye 3 points. Each player takes his or her turn and the first to reach a total of 12 points wins the game. A dandy party game, so be sure and save it.
